Old Age Pension Plans Being Voted On By Residents Of Both States

TWO STATES TO ELECT GOVERNORS

Many Minor Officials Are Being Elected In Voting Throughout Nation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Millions of American voters troop to the polls from coast to coast today in a variety of elections, highlighted by the balloting of California and Ohio on the old age pension issue.

Party leaders in Washington view the day's elections, important locally, as without particular national importance except for the effect the outcome of the pension contests may have on the national economy. Victories for the "ham and eggs" in California and the Bigelow pensioners in Ohio would be viewed seriously from a national standpoint.

Selecting Two Governors

The electorate is choosing governors in Kentucky and Mississippi, national representatives in the 34th New York (Binghamton) and 4th Pennsylvania (Philadelphia) districts, mayors in Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland, Memphis and other cities, and a host of local officers in a score of states. Of these, only the outcome in Philadelphia may have an effect on national politics.

Citizens who saw a grading machine at work on the Boyles home stead property adjoining the courthouse last week were amazed at the dexterity with which it was handled on a hillside. In less than two days grading was done which would have taken several men two weeks or more by hand labor. Machines are great labor savers, but unfortunately they displace men. However, in some lines it would be a great hardship to go back to the old way of doing things.

After the September primary the successful candidates banqueted the defeated. If the old saw that history repeats itself is true, we imagine the boys who win today will have an oyster supper or something on their hands.

Paris Celebrates As Airmen Bring Down Nine German Planes

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Nov. 7.—Celebrating the first major aerial victory on the western front, Paris went almost delirious with joy today over official French claims that nine French planes had brought down an equal number of German craft over the Rhine-Moselle sector.

The victory was announced in an official communiqué last night, which said that the nine French planes had engaged 27 German invading planes, shooting down one each, and escaping themselves without a loss.

Today it was revealed beyond question that all nine of the French planes which engaged in the battle were American-made Curtiss craft.

Their nine victims all were German's famed Messerschmidt fighters.

Most Significant

The joy in Paris, expressed by highest officials and ordinary citizens, can scarcely be described. Nor, according to the French, can the significance of the victory be over-estimated.

It is now held that the dreaded Messerschmidt fighting planes, which have been the terror of German propaganda and one of the most potent forces behind German

Philadelphia Is Center Of Warm Republican-Democratic Battle

HARRISBURG, Nov. 7.—Pennsylvania's voters went to the polls today to elect a justice of the supreme court, three superior court judges, 19 common pleas judges, 28 mayors and various other local officers in the state's first test of political strength since the Republican landslide of 1938.

A light vote by perhaps less than half of the approximately 450,000 registered voters was expected. The polls were open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Despite the indicated smallness of the vote, the balloting was expected to provide some idea of the present strength of the two parties, an important consideration in a presidential election year.

Republicans Have Lead

Registered Republicans held a lead over the Democrats of approximately 450,000, an increase of some 285,000 over last year's registration when the state GOP struck a new low majority of 163,052.

Registration figures have not meant much, however, in Pennsylvania politics as any accurate gauge of political strength since the election of 1934 when the GOP lost the state despite a Republican lead in registration of 1,223,281. In 1932, in

New Castle's airport proved to be a "haven of safety" for Clarence Duncan Chamberlin, non-stop ocean flyer and World War ace, late Monday afternoon when he was forced to bring his airplane to earth.

While en route from Kokomo, Ind., to New Brunswick, N. J., Chamberlin ran into poor visibility and the cold atmosphere at 3,000 feet caused ice to form on the carburetors of his two 12-cylinder engines. For a time he thought it might be possible to reach Pittsburgh before coming down, but soon found that this would be impossible.

Chamberlin was over this city when he spied the Scottish Rite Cathedral building and recognizing it as the building in which he spoke to an audience in 1930, he began to look about for the airport.

truck for the transportation of forage for the horses has been placed at the disposition of the troop.

Horses Go In Vans

The horses will be conveyed to Clearfield in the motor vans of the Pennsylvania State Police, and a detachment of men will take the 32 horses of the troop to Butler, Pa., leaving about 7 o'clock Sunday morning. Sixteen men will be detailed to this duty and will ride to camp in the vans with the horses.

Two light machine guns and two pack saddles will be taken with the troop in addition to the regulation saddle per horse.

Cooking during the field training period of the week will be done on a field range, so Mess Sergeant James Foster will have plenty of work cut out for him, particularly due to the fact that the men must be fed on 33 cents per day.

Use Fair Grounds

It has been learned that one squadron will be quartered in the armory; one squadron in an exposition building at the fair grounds; and one squadron in the Pennsylvania State Highway garage. It is presumed that the horses will be quartered in sheds at the fair grounds.

The field training order came with suddenness and found no money available for transportation, so that it was found necessary to use trucks for transportation instead of train, and to use the equipment of other state departments.

reported yesterday that the Belgian crown council held a meeting under chairmanship of King Leopold to answer a German communication, described as "in the nature of an ultimatum," asking for definite assurances regarding Belgian neutrality.

(The Belgian foreign office, however, discounted reports of an "ultimatum" German note to Belgium and also denied that the crown council had been called.)

Both Leopold and Spaak spent the night in the royal palace after the talks finally ended.

The unexpected conference aroused the keenest speculation in Netherlands political circles, where the opinion was expressed that the principal topic was a possible peace offer or closer cooperation between The Netherlands and Belgium for preservation of their neutrality.

But while politicians speculated, informed quarters indicated that there was no talk of a peace offer and that the king and queen confined themselves to a discussion of their position in the event of an expected offensive by Germany against the Allies.

Latest developments in the war were said to have convinced Belgium and The Netherlands that their position is more uncertain than ever and that all signs now point to intensification of the war, with added risks to the low countries because of their geographical situation.

Some quarters stated that the two governments regard the situation as "extremely grave."

the hey-day of Republican power, the Republican majority stood at 2,077,000.

The only statewide balloting was for the 21-year-post of justice of the supreme court and for three 10-year-term superior court judgeships.

Herbert F. Goodrich, Philadelphia, law dean of the University of Pennsylvania, was the Democratic candidate being opposed by Marion D. Patterson, Hollidaysburg, president judge of the Blair county common pleas court, Republican.

Judge Keller Certain

For the superior court, Judge William H. Keller, Lancaster, was sure of election, being endorsed by both parties. The remaining two Republican candidates were Judge Thomas J. Baldwin, Hollidaysburg, seeking re-election, and Judge William E. Hirt, Erie, appointed by Gov.

Arthur H. James to fill the vacancy caused by his election last fall.

The Democratic candidates for superior court were in addition to Keller, Congressman J. Harold Flannery, West Pittston, and former State Senator Edward J. Thompson, Phillipsburg.

The Democratic appellate court candidates held the endorsements of the Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council, the state CIO body, the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, the state A. F. of L. body, and the Railroad Brotherhoods.

Nineteen Court Judges

Of the 19 common pleas judgeship contests, four candidates were sure of election, having been endorsed by both parties, namely in Bucks, Cameron-Clinton-Elk, Montgomery, and Monroe-Pike counties. The salaries run between $10,000-$14,000 a year and the term is usually 10 years.

There were also two contests for state senator, one in Allegheny county to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of P. J. Henney, and the other in Philadelphia, caused by the unseating of Herbert S. Levin. Possible Republican control of the state senate is at stake.

The outstanding municipal contest was in Philadelphia where the Democrats were attempting to overthrow the long-entrenched Republican machine and elect a Democratic common council and mayor.

SEE THAT NEUTRALITY LAW WORKS

WITH the United States, determined to keep out of Europe's war, now committed to a drastically revamped Neutrality Act, it remains for the American government and the American people to make the new law work.President Roosevelt has taken steps, under the measure, to bulwark the nation's neutrality. He has proclaimed that a state of war exists between Germany, on one side, and France, Poland, the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the Union of South Africa. He has proclaimed that submarines of belligerent states may not enter United States waters by intent. He has proclaimed a combat area which American ships, aircraft and neutrals are prohibited from entering.Under the Amended Neutrality Act our ships are forbidden to carry cargoes to warring nations. Under the combat zone proclamation, our vessels are also, in effect, barred from trade with such neutrals as Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia.It is noteworthy that our neutrality regulations do not,
for the present, ban American vessels from Mediterranean ports.
But, as the president himself says, other combat zones, with the required prohibitory rulings for American ships, will be established if made necessary by the war.Even so, the new law is not absolute proof against provocative incidents involving our merchant ships. It would be well for the American people to guard against undue excitement if such incidents should occur. Their unemotional attitude in the City of Flint case was highly commendable.Furthermore, the neutrality regulations will call for sac-ifices. Shipping, export and other businesses are likely to suffer losses. Credit and travel limitations may cause annoyance and inconvenience.But just as the nation is temporarily surrendering some of its rights, so businesses and individuals ought to make the best of a bad situation.The purpose of this restrictive legislation is to keep the United States out of a foreign war that is not its concern. All other considerations, at present, are of minor importance.

NOT MACHINES BUT MEN!

When considering the inroads German submarines have made and may make both on British shipping and the English navy, it is well to remember that it is the human problem, and not mechanical replacements, that means eventual success or failure in the underseas campaign.Germany will probably experience little trouble in building new submarines to replace those lost—and it is claimed Hitler already has lost 20 of the 60 with which he entered the war. But to replace the lost crews is a far different matter. For no other arm of the service requires the training, technical skill, and experience the submarines demand to be operated successfully.Germany had more than 200 submarines at the close of the World War, but had neither officers nor crews to properly man them. Their highly trained experts had perished. So it is in the present conflict.
Germany's problem is not of the submarines themselves, but the trained men to operate them. A score of such crews already have perished. When a half hundred of these expert groups have gone the way of all warriors, what then?

OPIE READ OUTLIVED THEM ALL

Opie Read had been all but forgotten, and his death in Chicago at the age of 86 came as a shock to many an oldster, who was thus reminded that he hadn't read anything by Opie for several decades.But Read was a great author, and one of the most popular forty years ago. His "The Jucklins," published in 1895, sold 1,000,000 copies.
After gaining national fame as editor of "The Arkansas Traveler," a humorous weekly which was a great success, Read took to writing in earnest and had 52 volumes to his name at his death.Read was of the school of Mark Twain, Bill Nye, James Whitcomb Riley and Eugene Field and he was their contemporary. But Read had a style all his own, unsurpassed in native philosophy, salty humor and frontier colloquialisms.He was story teller on the platform as well and his services were in great demand until he retired voluntarily. He once said that he had spoken in every county in the United States. He started life as a printer, later becoming a small town newspaper publisher.The tramp printer of the era, with whom Read became well acquainted, could teach any college professor things about punctuation, Read firmly believed.Anecdotes of Read's early life are almost as numerous as the stories he gave currency. There is one of the weekly newspaper Read established in a supposedly abandoned freight car in a small Arkansas town. One night a switching engine and crew moved the car several miles into the country. The young publisher was put to the necessity of hiring a wagon to bring his plant back to town.Opie Read outlived both his times and his contemporaries. He was the last of a virile and lusty band that contributed greatly to American literature.Nazis teach that the American woman is a beautiful tyrant. Well, a beautiful tyrant has points over a homely one.Senate chamber acoustics are to be improved. Eventually that hall may sound like a man hollering into a rain barrel.Possibly Congressmen Dies is color blind. Those high officials in Washington may not be Reds but just pale pinks.Zane Grey accumulated as estate of $300,000 writing wild west fiction, proving that America certainly likes its shootin' cowboys.The Nazis are making raids into France to get prisoners. That seems foolish. Germany has too many mouths to feed already.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LOOKING AHEAD TO CHRISTMAS

It is not too early now to be thinking about and planning your Christmas buying for the children. It may be well for dad and mother to agree now on exactly how much they will spend on gifts for each child; then make the wisest selection possible within this budget.

The selection should be far more intelligent if you do this planning now than if you wait till just before Christmas. Ask yourself now what will be the most worthwhile gift or gifts for your child of high school age, for the runabout and tot and for the infant.

Especially for the tot and runabout, you will want the gifts to be educational, useful and lasting; suited, of course, to the age and development of each child. You will want to select playthings each child can operate without the aid of an adult or older child, as a rule, and can enjoy, in many instances, with other children his age.

Keep in mind things with which your young child can create—crayons, water colors, large paper sheets for drawing, colored paper, paste, brads, scissors and the like; for the child over six, tools—good tools—purchased with a view to begin or enlarge a workshop that will grow and last for years—hammer, saw, gimlet, brace and bit, plane, draw knife, vise.

Games Suggested

And games, especially those in which several children or the whole family can participate, are always good gifts.

Don't overlook good books, books from which to read to the young child and books for the older child to read to himself. Go to the book store and see the fine display. But don't assume that the latest is always the best. Keep your eye on those books which have stood the test for years.

Also, there are some magazines now suited to the various ages, even for the tot of three or four. While such children's magazines afford a great deal of fun for the tot as he listens to the things in them read to him, or as he draws and colors with them, these magazines also afford excellent reading materials for the child in the primary grades, and have about the best possible reading materials for the older child who is a poor reader.

Parents looking for gifts for other parents, grandparents for their married sons and daughters, can well consider books on child guidance and happy family living.

Books to read to baby and young child. Graded list of books for children of school age. Graded list of playthings. Books for parents.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Suppose you discovered that your daughter, say she is 19, has been smoking for some while behind your back.

A. I should try, calmly, to persuade her to give it up. Falling in this, I should let her know that I would rather have her smoke in my presence than in my absence. Next, I should try to induce her to limit her smoking to a very small amount.

Q. What would you do to a child, four years old, who told the widest yarns about all sorts of things which you know could not have happened?

A. I should learn to enjoy the yarns and encourage her to tell more of them, letting her know that I had a good imagination, too. Also, I should try to induce her to make many things with her hands and to play freely with other children her age. Both are good means of helping her check with reality.

'Ham 'N Eggs' Pension Plan Is Being Voted On By Californians.

By RALPH B. JORDAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 7.—Amid an abundance of campaign literature, radio oratory and even circus ballyhoo, the battle of the controversial "ham 'n eggs" pension measure thundered to a dramatic close in California.

Today some 2,800,000 voters, grimly and determination evident on both sides of the desperate conflict, will approve or reject a plan which provides payment of $30 every Thursday to those who have reached the age of 50 years and are able to qualify for the startling benefits.

Once before, on November 8, 1938, a somewhat milder version of the "ham 'n eggs" proposition was pondered by the people of California. The widely-discussed pension idea was voted down, but that was at a general election which brought out 75 per cent of the registration, and the margin of defeat was only 255,000 votes out of 2,542,000 cast.

Since then backers of the plan have worked hard and spent much money to gain new supporters. The "ham 'n eggs" voting strength for today's special election was estimated by experts as close to 1,500,000, and it was pointed out that there will be few of the oldsters and their partisans who will not vote.

The California registration is 3,606,000, so that opponents of the measure who are prone to analyze, were insisting that advance victory claims of the "ham 'n eggs" must not be dismissed with a wave of the hand. Many places of business throughout the state closed part of election day that everyone might have an opportunity to vote.

The campaign now closing has been a costly one for both sides.

From an estimated 450,000 members throughout the state has come thousands of dollars in contributions to finance the myriad activities of the $30-every-Thursday organization. Members are supposed to pay one cent a day.

Technically known as California retirement life payments, the "ham 'n eggs" plan special election was called by Gov. Culbert Olson at the behest of promoters who last spring presented petitions bearing the signatures of an estimated million or so persons who asked for $30-every-Thursday.

The pension advocates have claimed on many occasions that they were instrumental in the election of Olson, a Democrat. Now they are embittered toward the governor because, when he issued his election proclamation, he declared he did not think the proposal would accomplish the things hoped for it. He asserted in a radio speech that he believed the plan is unworkable.

AROUND CITY HALL

Seventy-three persons violated the parking meter ordinance in October, according to a report delivered by Mayor Charles E. McGrath to council, in session in city hall. Monday, fourteen others broke other traffic regulations, two of them having been arrested for speeding.

Intoxication was not so great during October, according to police. Fifty-one were arrested for being drunk, 19 others were jailed on charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct, but three who "mixed gasoline and alcohol," then drove a car, were arrested for driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

One hundred and seventeen persons among those arrested by city police in October paid either a fine or secured freedom through a cash bond. Six others were sent to the county jail to serve time and 34 were discharged by Mayor Charles E. McGrath in police court. Others were turned over to aldermanic custody because the violations of law were not considered sufficiently serious for court action.

Not everyone arrested by city police and found guilty in police court goes to the county jail. Last month the mayor in police court decided 18 whose offenses were not so serious were sentenced to serve time in the city jail for a brief period. This kept down the cost to the city of paying board for prisoners.

CHAPTER 105 OFFICERS HONOR WORTHY MATRON

New Castle Chapter, No. 105, Order of the Eastern Star, entertained at a lovely affair Monday evening the occasion being a 6:30 dinner party in honor of their worthy matron, Mrs. Gus Sanfilippo, nee Margaret Shaffer.

The event took place at a prominent suburban tea room, and was in the nature of a miscellaneous shower. An array of many beautiful gifts were received by the honoree, the presentation being made in verse by Mrs. Florence Campbell in behalf of the assemblage.

Individual corsages and unique name markers completed the attractive table arrangements. A "surprise pie" filled with novelties for each, was an after dinner highlight.

Contract bridge was in play afterwards with Mrs. Earl Buzard and Mrs. Dorothy Peacock winning the awards.

The committee in charge composed Mrs. Marjery Brinton, general chairman, Miss Helen Clark and Mrs. Florence Campbell.

SIGMA DELTA CHI HAS INITIATION

Initiation of three new members, Georgia Ringer, Edys Davenport and Doris Keener, took place when members of the Sigma Delta Chi group gathered in the Hillcrest club house. Approximately 200 attended.

The initiation ceremonies took place in the garage, after which the group went to the home of their advisor, Mrs. Travis French, East Wallace avenue, where refreshments were served by Mrs. French, aided by several of the members.

Geraldine Hadsell, president, had charge of the meeting afterwards when plans were made to pack a Thanksgiving basket for a family. The committee in charge consists of Evelyn Lockard, chairman, Georgia Ringer and Nancie Underwood. Plans for a Christmas party and for installation on December 4 were also discussed.

Showgirl Friend Of Judge Crater Has Been Found

Key Witness In Suit Of Former Wife Of Missing Judge Is Found On Long Island

HOSPITAL PATIENT SINCE NOVEMBER 1936

(International News Service)

NEW YORK Nov. 7.—The New York Journal-American today announced that June Brice, native of Columbus, O., and long-missing showgirl friend of the vanished Supreme Court Justice Joseph Force Crater, has been found by a Journal-American reporter in the Pilgrim State Hospital at Brentwood, Long Island, where she has been confined since November, 1936.

Miss Brice, known as Mrs. Winthrop Covell and by her real name of Jennie Rosalie Holstein, the Journal-American said, was confined at the Manhattan State Hospital on Ward's Island for a full year before entering Pilgrim State Hospital.

Rambling Patient

She was described by the Journal-American as "a rambling, incoherent patient." She is the key witness in attempts of Emil K. Ellis, attorney for Mrs. Stella Crater Kunz, former wife of the missing jurist, to prove that Judge Crater died by violence.

The story added:

"With her aid Ellis, to prove violence and obtain for Mrs. Kunz $60,000 in double indemnity on the jurist's insurance policies, was expected to tell a court that Crater visited Mrs. Covell on the night of his disappearance and offered her $5,000 to sever their friendship.

Taken For Ride

"Instead, the attorney's story was believed to run, two gangsters waylaid Judge Crater and took him for a ride in an attempt to extort $50,000 from him."

If Garner (or some other old-timer) wins, there's certain to be a shoal of New Dealers who won't support him.

Naturally the Republicans will do their darndest to capitalize on this anticipated Democratic division.

Doesn't this forecast a mean partisan campaign following the conventions?

At that stage of the game the water's edge considerations may only complicate matters.

Nazi Germany Stiffens Attitude On Neutrals

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Nazi Germany stiffened in her attitude toward the neutral powers of Western Europe today.

Official spokesmen rapped their "weakness" in defending sovereign shipping rights against the British blockade and deprecated the real importance of last night's meeting between King Leopold of Belgium and Queen Wilhelmina of Holland at The Hague.

The Journal-American said that she suffered a nervous breakdown in September 1939, and was committed to the neurological institute in New York for treatment. The story said she was released the following December 15, and transferred to Columbia State Hospital at Columbus, O.

The Journal-American said:

"Solution of the mystery surrounding her departure completely upset theories advanced that Miss Brice was dead, perhaps by violence.

"But June Brice, according to the story that reporters pieced together from a dozen different sources, including her mother, Mrs. M. E. Holstein, of 1812 Harrison avenue, Columbus, has undergone a fate worse than death."

Tried To Suicide

More than once, the story added, she has tried to free herself by suicide, but all her attempts have failed.

The Journal-American said she was released from Columbus State Hospital on March 31, 1931, and returned to New York. She had been married, the story added, to H. Winthrop Covell, U. S. Army Chaplain stationed at Fort Sherman, Neb., but the marriage ended in divorce.

In New York, she occupied a one-room apartment on the east side in mid-town Manhattan. The Journal-American quoted her mother as revealing two ill-fated romances thereafter—one with a young man who was killed in an accident, another with a married man whose wife refused him a divorce.

Believed Deranged

The story added that in October, 1935, Miss Brice was found cutting bundles of letters into small pieces and stuffing them into a fireplace in her apartment and soon afterward tried to stab herself with an ice-pick. This incident was followed immediately, the Journal-American informant said, by the dissuading with difficulty of Miss Brice who had run from the apartment and started for the roof.

She was taken first to Bellevue hospital, then to the Manhattan State Hospital on Ward's Island on Oct. 30, 1935. She was transferred to Pilgrim State Hospital on Nov. 24, 1936, the Journal-American said, and has been there ever since.

Miss Lenora Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Coates, of the New Bedford road, has left to accept a position as filing clerk in the Shenkman and Edward Flaherty.

For the next few moments the skies were filled with the screams of motors, pounding cannon, the roar of machine guns and the fantastic parabolas of hurtling bodies of flame and smoke.

The French high command's laconic communiqué told the rest of the story: Nine enemy craft were shot down, seven in French territory and two spiraling in flames behind the German lines.

Each plane "took out" its opponent, as inexorably as does a good lineman in a football game.

The surviving German craft fled in disorder to their home bases and the French returned to theirs in triumph.

Russia Reaffirms Determination To Remain Neutral

Peace Policy To Be Maintained

Message Is Given To World
By Defense Commissar
K. E. Voroshilow

BRANDS ALLIES AS WAR AGGRESSORS

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—Reaffirming its determination to remain at peace, Soviet Russia's government today branded Britain and France as "aggressors" in the European war and called on the people of the U.S.S.R. to trust the Red army.

This message to the people of the Soviet Union and the world was conveyed in an "order of the day" issued by Defense Commissar Klement E. Voroshilow.

It followed by only a few hours Premier-Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov's address, pledging continued Russian neutrality in the European war, and a Communist international manifesto, calling for revolts in all belligerent nations against continuation of the "capitalistic" struggle.

Voroshilow's "order of the day" stated:

"The Soviet people are relying upon the powerful Red army and navy to continue to pursue a consistent policy of peace. They are relying upon the victorious Red army calmly and confidently to continue its peace labors while keeping a watchful eye on the present most complicated and sanguinary international situation.

"No developments can catch it unawares.

"The Soviets know their friends well and can distinguish between friends and foes. The far-sighted foreign policy of Stalin has not allowed those who like others to pull chestnuts out of the fire for them to involve the Soviet Union in war.

"The European war, in which Britain and France acted as zealous champions and instigators, has not yet developed into a conflagration. But the British and French aggressors are showing no desire for peace and are exerting every effort to fan the war and extend it to other countries.

"Pursuing a policy of neutrality, the Soviet government in every way is striving for establishment of the peace so greatly needed by the peoples of all countries.

"Great, powerful and invincible is the Union of Soviet Socialist republics. The peoples of the Soviet and of the country are certain of the future and face it with confidence. The Red army is always alert."

Britain Would Favor Registry Change For Ships

Plan To Use U. S. Ships Under Panama Registry Inferentially Approved

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Inferential British approval of plans to place eight American ships under the flag of Panama, thus permitting them to enter the combat zones forbidden to American vessels and citizens by President Roosevelt, was revealed today.

Naval circles in London indicated Britain would be willing to provide armed convoys for American ships flying the flag of Panama provided the British navy is asked to do so.

Editor's note: Germany warned only recently that neutral ships accepting convoy of armed enemy naval craft would be subject to sinking without warning.)

This was the first and unofficial British reaction to news from Washington that the United States Maritime Commission had been asked to approve change in the registry of eight American vessels.

Both naval and merchant marine captains expressed belief that ships bearing American arms and munitions to the Allies will be special targets of German submarines and surface raiders.

Slow Response In Hospital Drive

Only Ninety Memberships So Far Reported—Five Hundred Are Needed

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 7.—Local hospital authorities are alarmed over the slow return of hospital membership renewals and the dismal outlook of the possibility of signing new members.

To rightly do its share this community should have 500 citizens who are civic spirited enough to contribute $10 each toward maintaining a hospital that is ever ready to care for the sick and injured.

Up to and including today's report we have ninety citizens that have answered the plea of the local hospital for support.

With industry on the upgrade and practically everyone working, this community ought to rally and respond that they can contribute to so worthy an institution. Checks are to be made out to the Ellwood City Hospital and mailed to the hospital.

Special receipt cards will be mailed out from the hospital to all those that join.

Latest Ellwood City Hospital memberships:

Walter B. Baisch, Nagel's Cash Market, H. R. Johnson, Mrs. H. R. Johnson, Carol Ist Roumanian Aid Society, Ellin Bell, G. B. Hanmer, Ralph C. Shaffer, H. F. Wilson, European Bakery, Harry N. Dope Traffic, Counterfeiting, Hit By New Drive

Enforcement Agencies Coordinate In Death Blow At Crime Cohorts

BOOTLEGGING IS ALSO INCLUDED

By LEON W. SHLOSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The dope traffic, counterfeiting and bootlegging have been dealt staggering blows by the Treasury Department's recently—and quietly—coordinated law enforcement agencies, Elmer L. Irey, director of the massed force of 2,800 T-men, disclosed today.

The Customs Bureau, the Alcohol Tax Unit, the Secret Service, the Internal Revenue Bureau's Intelligence Unit, and the Narcotics Bureau are cooperating with each other so efficiently that dope can be purchased only at prohibitive prices, counterfeiting has dropped to one-third of its 1935 volume, and alcohol tax evasions have been drastically curtailed, Irey asserted.

Under President Roosevelt's government reorganization plans approved by the last Congress, the way was cleared for issuance of an executive order, bringing all the treasury law enforcement agencies under a single command. But Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau opposed the move on the grounds it might be construed as establishment of an American Gestapo.

Voluntary Cooperation
Irey, however, by efforts so intense that he has been forced to relinquish direction of the IRB Intelligence Unit—where he gained renown as the officer who finally "got" Al Capone—has achieved a system of highly efficient voluntary cooperation between the various treasury law enforcement groups.

The coordination of the T-men was intensified several weeks ago, the chief treasury agent revealed, and on Monday of this week Irey moved his offices from the Internal Revenue Bureau into the Treasury Department building to direct continuance of the crime drive from a more central location.

Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger of the Narcotics Bureau corroborated Irey's disclosure of the decline in the dope traffic, and praised agents of other treasury agencies as well as his own for their zealous activity and cooperation.

The coordination program has enabled each law enforcement branch to operate much more efficiently, because both personnel and facilities of each group is always available to the other units, Irey explained.

Policy Of Cooperation

If, for instance, narcotics agents need reinforcements to make a raid, they call on officers of the nearest treasury enforcement agency, regardless of which it may be.

Further, Irey pointed out, some of his agencies possess laboratory and communications facilities which others do not have, but under coordination they are available. Free interchange of information between agencies also has proved invaluable, he said.

Fifteen districts have been set up, in each of which the various agencies take turns in furnishing a regional coordinator. Frequent conferences attended by all agents are held, at which problems are discussed and aid tendered.

Gridiron Parade Here Nears Judges' Stand

November is advancing and another local gridiron parade is nearing the judges' stand.

With the exception of New Castle high and Westminster college, all Lawrence county elevens say farewell to the popular fall sport this week.

Union Township's last stand is against the New Castle Reserves Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on Union field. The Scotland Lancers hope to ring up their lone victory of the season. The Reserves include the "ugly ducklings" of the Red Hurricane who will carry on in the future. The game should be exciting.

The local parade continues Saturday afternoon with local clubs involved in five classes.

Joe Hartman, who used to prance around the gridiron in a New Castle high moheskin more than 15 years ago, hopes to see his Grove City high eleven mow down New Castle's Canes at Taggart stadium. With the locals in some kind of a slump, the game promises to be one of those close tiffs with lots of thrills.

Ellwood City high, which marched undefeated after dropping their opening game to Bessemer, faces Beaver Falls at Ellwood City in the season finale. The Tubers rank as one of the most improved machines in the district.

Westminster's Titans move a step nearer to the end of the season by entertaining an ancient foe, Grove City. The tussle shapes up as one of the top attractions.

Bessemer high winds up against Lowellville in the Ohio city.

The local junior high schools and Shenango Township ended their season last week.

As the grid sport nears the finish line, there isn't a local eleven that boasts a clean slate.

Joe DiMaggio And Actress Will Wed Sunday, Nov. 19

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Invitations were mailed today for the wedding of Joe DiMaggio, America's No. 1 baseball star, and Dorothy Arnold, blonde movie actress. The nuptial date has been set at Sunday, Nov. 19.

This was a denial of a surprise announcement from Duluth, Minn., attributed to the bride's friends, that the slugging New York Yankee outfielder and Miss Arnold would be wed this morning.

The marriage will be solemnized at St. Peter's and St. Paul's church with Joe's brother, Tom, as best man.

DiMaggio, who spent yesterday fishing for striped bass while his fiancee added to her trousseau, said honeymoon plans were undecided.

The popular young couple met in New York more than a year ago. At that time Miss Arnold was a radio singer. She later went to Hollywood to work in pictures.

THE BUMS RUSH

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Unemployed men who frequent Vancouver's Pioneer Square are whistling "Are There Any More at Home Like You?" these days and hoping they can whistle up results. An unidentified woman, asked for "a dime-for-a-cup-of-coffee" recently, decided to play no favorites. She began giving away all the money in her purse. When that gave out, she ran into a bank, cashed a check, and started to give away more money. As the crowd of men swelled to about 1,000, the woman tossed away her last handful of quarters and ran for a taxi. Spectators estimated she gave away about $45.

Ancient Rivals Clash Saturday Upon Grid Here

Grove City And New Castle Have Met 15 Times Since 1912, Locals Have Won 12

"RED HURRICANE" MAY GET SURPRISE

ANCIENT football rivals, Grove City and New Castle will tangle on Saturday at Taggart Stadium on (Armistic Day.) The kickoff at 2:30 o'clock should find the stands well packed. Since the grid relations were taken up back in 1912 the teams have clashed 15 times. The New Castle boys hold the edge 12 to 3 in victories.

In the fifteen games the "Red Hurricanes" have amassed a total of 347 points to 51 for the Grovers. Coach Joe Hartman is bringing a big Grove City team here Saturday that he thinks can take the measure of the New Castle eleven. Last Saturday the Grovers topped Sharpsville High 14 to 12 and recently held the Sharon High team to a 0-0 deadlock.

Hawks Fine Backfield

Grove City owns victories over Union High 31 to 7, and Franklin High 44 to 6. The Alliance Avisors defeated Grove City by a small margin. Hartman has a fast and tricky set of backs. They will make it tough for the locals.

As New Castle High trains for the battle, Head Coach Bridenbaugh is having his troubles. Ralph Cennane is still ailing. Clazza's bad ankle does not respond well to treatment and Freddy McKeon still has a cast on his injured right hand.

Grovers Anxious

The New Castle team is not taking the grovers lightly. Any team that holds Sharon even for four periods with no score, must have something besides uniforms. Then, too, any team that can upset that Sharpville High team must have what it takes. Sharon topped the Sharpville team 34 to 19 earlier in the year, but couldn't score a solitary touchdown on Grove City. The Hartman coached line is well balanced and strong.

The two teams have not met in football for nine years. Will Grove City be able to dump the "Red Hurricanes"? This is just as liable to happen as not. Anyhow, it is going to be a football game well worth seeing.

Afield And Astream

With
Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association
By GEORGE SILLMAN

The opening day is over . . . and till the car would pass. Who do you suppose was in that gas buggy? Yeah, the Game Warden himself. We chatted there awhile when the rabbit crossed beside the car and I was helpless, with the law right beside me. Well those things will happen to the best of hunters. Well on with my hunting. When we came home that night, Jack had four rabbits and I three and one ringneck. So my small game hunting is at an end before it got started, and my plans are for some thing bigger right at this present time, if something don't happen before November 14th. Good ol' bear season is just around the corner and that's sumpin'.

Meeting Date Changed

The regular meeting of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Assn. should be Tuesday night, November 14, but due to the many bear hunters leaving for the big woods that same day, the meeting will be moved up one night. So don't forget the meeting will be held Monday, November 13 instead. As far as we know it will be held in the City Building, unless something further develops. If a larger hall can be secured it will be announced later. Bob Ford will be back with bigger and better pictures at the next regular meeting. Those of you who were fortunate enough to see the last pictures will know what to look forward to, those who missed them will have a treat in store for them. Leading sportsmen of the state claim that they are absolutely the tops in outdoor films. Many are in natural color to bring forth the many beauties of our wildlife. This year Mr. Ford has pictures of the Pennsylvania Indians and their natural haunts. Pictures of a bear coming out of his den, probably the first time this kind of picture has ever been taken. Mr. Ford has thousands of dollars worth of trick and trap cameras for taking these pictures. Many of the pictures were taken by the game itself.

Sportsmen's Club emblems are now here and are available at W. E. Ferver's Store, it is announced.

Why The Ballyhoo

Why do they ballyhoo a hunting accident the way they do. A hunter on the other end of the state shoots himself in the big toe, everyone reads about it. Some local person could be injured in an auto accident, and if he was not of some concern, no one knows anything about it. Take 650,000 motorists on a holiday and I'll bet a nickel to a doughnut there would be more accidents.

Sports World Ramblings

Local Jottings: One of the oddest happenings of the season was recorded in the Washington-New Castle game. Jimmie Temenski, a substitute, blocked a Washington punt, recovered the ball for a touchdown and then kicked the placement for the seventh point! Albert Pishioneri, former Ellwood City high center, is one of the standouts on Salem's eleven this season.

Sideline Angles: Tommy Harmon, the Michigan ball-o-fair, is as good as a lot of Granges, but I'm not saying which one. He is not in the same class with the Grange who wore "77" for Illinois back in the mid-twenties. Zupke, the same fellow who developed the immortal Red, blasted the Harmon balloon to pieces. Those wild rumors about Howard Jones' latest edition . . .

The uncertainty of football was emphasized in Illinois' victory over Michigan. Heraldized as one of the most talented collegiate outfits, Michigan looked like a mediocre club in losing to an eleven which had yet to taste victory. A coach plays an important role. Zupke, one of the smartest men in football, whipped his squad into the right pitch for the assignment. Next Saturday, this same team may look miserable. Grid teams are not the same from one week to another. . .

Around the football fronts, the boys are arguing about the best collegiate club in the land. Everyone seems to be slanting towards Tennessee. Notre Dame shapes up second, Cornell in a third spot with Southern California fourth. If our say means anything, the Trojans draw the vote. Blessed with talent that runs three and four deep, I can't see a team that can surpass Howard Jones' latest edition. . .

Billy Murray Defeats Moran

Secret Captures Decision Over Delarado In Good Fight

NICK LA VOLPE WINS FROM BENNY BARTLE

Billy Murray, Cecil flash, decisioned rugged Frankie Moran, South New Castle, in a fast three-round amateur fight in The Arena last night. Murray sent Moran down twice in the first and again in the third stanza. The bout was one in the Parade of Amateur champions staged by the Jefferson A. C.

Last night's Moran-Murray setto was a return battle. Moran having been awarded the decision several weeks ago. When they clashed last night in the opening round Moran was first to land, shooting a right to the head. He rushed Murray, who backed away.

As Moran rushed again, Murray stepped in with a beautifully timed right to the chin. Moran went down but got up without a count. He was wobbly and took several solid whacks to the chin. As Moran lunged forward, he slipped and a short right dropped him to his right knee. He got up instantly.

Murray had far the best of the round but undaunted, Frank rushed Murray when the second round opened. He landed a solid left to Murray's head. They exchanged punches to the head with horns even. Moran swung plenty but Murray made Moran miss. Murray scored when he fought Moran to the ropes.

Billy had the best of the second and when the third opened used his feet advantageously. He circled Moran. In an exchange, he dropped a left to Moran's chin that sent Moran down a third time. Moran got up at four and made a desperate effort to land solidly. Murray sent a right to Moran's face as Moran stepped in. Two more landed in an exchange. They stepped away and Moran sent a left to the head and Murray hit Moran with a right to the jaw as the bell ended the fight.

Good Semi-Final

The Sammy Secret-Ted Delarado welterweight fight, which Secret won, proved one of the sweetest amateur boxing bouts yet staged here. The decision given Secret was unanimous. Delarado kissed the canvas for several seconds in the second, a right to the head upsetting Del.

After arising Delarado landed a right to the head which jarred Sammy no little, and in the third they fought fast and the punches fell like rain drops. At times Del turned southpaw only to end up against the end of Secret's right to the chin.

Andy Wertz beat Oscar Wright in a 140-pound fight. The battle was a struggle for two chapters but in the third Wertz gave the colored lad, who beat George Simms here, a thorough shellacking.

Benny Loses Hard Fight

The Benny Bartle-Nick LaVolpe fight went to LaVolpe because his judgement of distance was somewhat better and he was more steady on his pins than the light heavyweight champion of Lawrence county.

They swung punches from the floor, ceiling and ropes and the bout had all the earmarks of a street brawl. Science, which neither demonstrated, was out of the picture. However, they fought hard throughout.

Bob Lundy of Pittsburgh knocked out Milt Cecil, Cecil, in the second round, and Pete Spotti beat Jimmy Harper, Pittsburgh. Spotti won in the last two rounds after having been outbatted and outstepped in the first.

Wins Split Decision

Larry Retardo, Ellwood, was given a split decision over Julius Walt in the second bout. Phil Greer voted for Walt. George Mazza and Referee Tom McMahon gave the award to Larry. It was a hard fight.

Al Dundee, Cecil, and Pepe Pope, Youngstown, flyweights and clever staged an attractive, fast opening round with Al winning the award after three rounds.

The referee was Tom McMahon; judges, Phil Greer and State Motor Policeman George Mazza, an ex-boxer; time keeper, Vito Cialella and Billy Fazzone. The boxing show was in charge of Tommy Leach, Matchmaker, and Ed. Fritz, of the Jefferson A. C.

Farewell For Pastors Planned

Clergymen And Wives Will Give Luncheon For Rev. Schnebly And Rev. Russell

EVENT ON MONDAY IN CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Plans for a luncheon in farewell to Rev. and Mrs. Daniel C. Schnebly of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church and Rev. and Mrs. Elmer G. Russell of the New Castle Reformed Presbyterian church were made Monday at a meeting of the New Castle Ministerial Association in the First Presbyterian church.

The luncheon will take place on Monday, November 13, at 12:30 p.m. in the First Christian church on the Diamond. Arrangements are in charge of Rev. Rees T. Williams, Dr. G. S. Bennett, and Rev. R. B. Withers of the Ministerial Association, and Mrs. R. B. Withers, Mrs. G. S. Bennett, Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine and Mrs. Thomas B. Shearer of the Ministers Wives club. Reservations are to be made with Rev. Withers no later than Thursday, November 9.

Rev. Schnebly and Rev. Russell, who have resigned their charges and are leaving New Castle, attended their last meeting of the Ministerial Association yesterday, and expressed in a feeling manner their appreciation for the fine programs and the fellowship the association has offered.

A similar double-farewell luncheon was given a few weeks ago for Dr. C. B. Wingerd, former Central Presbyterian minister, and Dr. H. A. McCurdy, former Epworth Methodist minister.

Rev. Archie Gibson presented the Eureka Jubilee Singers, who were heard in several numbers. The opening prayer was given by Rev. W. F. Ratzlaff. Dr. Bennett announced that the Red Cross drive opens next Sunday.

Under the election law the court must sit continuously during the day to take care of any situations that may arise in election districts through the county.

LIVESTOCK

(International News Service)

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 7.—With the German army massed at their gates and apparently ready for a death thrust against England by way of the lowlands, Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and King Leopold of Belgium "raised their voices" in behalf of peace again today.

Acting jointly after a dramatic personal meeting at the Hague last night, the elderly queen and Belgium's youthful king dispatched to all belligerent powers a poignantly worded telegram pleading for restoration of peace before it is too late.

Celebration At Leesburg Church

Meetings Next Week In Observance Of 10th Anniversary Of Church Dedication

HOMECOMING DAY ON NOVEMBER 19

Thursday, November 16, will mark the 10th anniversary of the dedication of the present Leesburg Presbyterian church. There has been a Presbyterian congregation in Leesburg ever since 1856 and it outgrew two other church buildings.

Rev. W. A. Lloyd, the pastor, announces a week of gospel meetings in celebration of and in thankfulness for this first decade in the present time edifice and a homecoming day. Meetings will be held each night from November 12 to 19, with the exception of Saturday. Opening at 8 o'clock, they will be in charge of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Fulton of Plain Grove, who will also lead the music. All who enjoy good singing will experience a real treat.

Next Sunday morning, November 12, Rev. Fulton will preach at 11 o'clock. The young people's societies will meet at 7 p.m. and at 8 o'clock Mrs. Fulton will bring the message. Her subject will be "The Gospel in a Nut Shell." This will be an object or illustrated sermon. Mrs. Fulton is an inspiring children's evangelist and has traveled extensively with noted evangelistic parties, among them the "Boo" Jones and the Dibble party.

Sunday, November 19, will be homecoming day, when church members, friends and former pastors will gather for a basket dinner at noon in the social room of the church, and at 2:30 p.m. attend a fellowship service.

Leesburg Presbyterians are inviting their friends of Leesburg and all surrounding communities to attend these services, Rev. Lloyd said today.
